Will Not Get Reward.

Johnny Jones, who accompanied his father, E. M. Jones, to the police station last Wednesday evening, will not get the reward of $500 put up jointly by the authorities and John F. Colburn. Mr. Colburn turned over his check for $250 to the High Sheriff but will likely be returned. It is not improbable that young Jones will sue for the money.

"The reward will not be paid to Jones," said High Sheriff Brown yesterday afternoon. "I have received an oral opinion from Attorney General Andrews to the effect that the boy had no hand in bringing Jones to the station. He holds, and the opinion is sustained by other men in the city, that the action of Johnny Jones did not constitute an arrest of the murderer. Our position simply is, that Jones surrendered himself to the police, and that the boy had no hand in it, excepting to accompany his father to the station. Under these circumstances I feel justified in not paying the reward."

"Mr. Colburn sent me a check for $250 this morning as his share of the offered reward, but it will be returned to him, in view of the determination reached."

"We have decided not to pay the reward to Jones," said Attorney General Andrews last evening. "In the first place Jones did not give his father up, nor did he give information leading to his arrest. He simply came to the station with him and did no more than a hackman would have done. For the son to ask blood money for giving up his father is against public policy. Even though he actually gave information leading to the arrest of his father, we would have hesitated about paying the reward. To encourage that sort of thing seems like putting a premium upon human depravity."

"We appreciate very much the action of Mr. Colburn in sending the reward he has offered, but the government cannot accept it and it will be returned."

Bishop on Withington.

Attorney Withington, of San Diego, was yesterday admitted to practice law in all the courts of the Territory. One of his certificates of character was from Bishop Restarick, of the Episcopal church, who added the following unusual but interesting remarks:

"Mr. Withington was known to the bench and the bar of San Diego and elsewhere in the State not only as a lawyer of excellent ability and large experience, but as a man of exceptionally high character and unquestioned probity."

"The community knew him as one who was always interested in all that tended to benefit or uplift the city, county or State. Geo. W. Marston, easily San Diego's first citizen, wrote me recently: 'Withington's decision to go to Honolulu threw us into consternation. How shall we do without him in city and State affairs where he has been so masterful?'"
